WHERE

We work in communities where inequality is evident

WHO

To enable socio-economically, mentally and/or differently-abled children and youth

WHAT

We improve access to mental and physical health development, education and pathways to better employment opportunities.

HOW

By Creating safe spaces, skills development, mentorship and opportunity through positive mental health interventions (sailing therapy, blue mind healing & growth mindset programs).

WHY

Because our environment can calm and connect us, increase innovation, insight and even heal what's broken.

Who we are

The Little Optimist Trust empowers marginalised and at-risk children, through offering opportunity, inclusion, education and positive mental health intervention. We upgrade and beautify under resourced education and health facilities, to create Safe Spaces that positively influence healing, learning and mental health.

Our globally awarded Sailing Therapy Academy harnesses the transformative power of water, and combines tailored programmes that blend sailing instruction with therapy and education, to cultivate resilience, self-confidence, and a sense of community.

Our unique, evidence-based approach to "Growing Optimism", not only offers hope, valuable life skills and a pathway to future employment, but also fosters emotional healing and personal growth in a supportive, nature-filled environment. Join us on our quest to "Keep Hope Afloat", for those that need it most!

He would say to himself:
*"I may be slow and I may be small.
My sail is square and I'm not so tall.
But I am special and I have heart.
My dreams are big and this is just the start."*

About us:

The Problem

OPTIMISM is a powerful health tonic, but is absent amongst the youth of marginalised communities of Cape Town where less than 10% of children and adolescence who need mental health support, diagnosis and treatment will actually receive any. This is a breath taking 90% treatment gap. This is a proven manifestation in most under resourced communities globally.

The Journey

After surviving two heart surgeries and 200 days in hospital, founder Greg Bertish sailed a tiny 8-foot dinghy around the Cape to raise funds for children's hospitals. His story became a movement – The Little Optimist Trust – rooted in one belief: that optimism can change lives.

" Blue Mind, is a mildly meditative state characterised by calm, peacefulness, unity, and a sense of general happiness and satisfaction with life in the moment. We are beginning to learn that our brains are hardwired to react positively to water and that being near it can calm and connect us, increase innovation and insight, and even heal what is broken." -
Dr Wallace J Nichols
